A PETRIFIED MAN

Discovered in an Out-of-the-way Gulch Near Dayton.

From the Dayton Chronicle is learned of the discovery of a petrified man near that town. That paper gets its information of this petrification from a farmer in the following words:
"I want to tell you of a discovery I made yesterday while out hunting cattle," said the man. "I was up the right fork of the Touchet about nine miles, near the old shingle mill, and seeing some cattle up a gulch I rode up to where they were to see if any belonged to me. I found a two-year-old heifer of mine, and in cutting her out of the band, was obliged to go still further up the gulch. I had gone but a short distance when I caught sight of what looked like a man, who was partly sitting or leaning against a small bluff of rock. On closer inspection I discovered that I was not mistaken, and that it really was a man. I spoke to him, but as he remained silent, I rode nearer, when I discovered that he was petrified."
"You don't say!" said we. "Yes, and there is no telling how long he had been in that gulch, or whether he is a white man or an Indian. Have an idea, though, that he is an old prospector who died suddenly of heart disease, and the elements have changed him to stone. There is a small stream of water running over the bluff which strikes him on the head as it falls, and then spreads out over his entire body. This may have been the chief cause of his petrification. A number of small trees and bushes have grown around him which hides him from view, except at a single place on the trail. I have often gone over the same ground, but never happened to look in the right direction at the right time, to get a glimpse at the man. It is purely accidental that I saw him this time. His position is so queer, too, that death must have been instantaneous. His shoulder is against the bluff, one hand is held in front of his face with fingers slightly separated; his back is bent as if ready to sit down, and his legs are slightly bent at the knees. On the bottom of each foot is a smooth thin stone, which appears as if they might have been the soles of his boots. His left arm is bent at the elbow, with the hand directly in front of him, about eight inches from his face."

CRAMPS OF THE MUSCLES CURED.
John I. Wood, of Stratford, Ont., was cured of cramps in the legs by wearing ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER. Mr. Wood says:
Some three months ago I was taken very sick with severe pain in the small of my back over the kidneys. The pain was excruciating. I applied an ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER over the affected region, and had relief almost within an hour. At the same time, in conjunction with this trouble, I had very great nervous disturbance, affecting my legs with cramps so I could scarcely sleep. Meeting with such success with my back I applied a plaster under the knee on each leg, and in three days was completely cured, and have never been troubled in either way since.

RAISE IN LUMBER.
The sawmill men have formed a compact and raised the prices for lumber, as may be seen from the following table:
Rough, per m $10 00
Edged 12 00
T. and G. Sheathing 14 00
No. 2 Flooring 20 00
No. 2 Ceiling 20 00
No. 2 Rustic 20 00
Clear Rough 22 00
No. 1 Flooring 25 00
No. 1 Ceiling 25 00
No. 1 Rustic 25 00
Stepping 25 00
Over 12 in. wide (extra) 1 00
Lengths 40 to 50 2 00
Lengths 50 to 60 4 00
1 1/2 Lath 2 50
1 1/2 Lath 2 75
The reason for this raise in prices is due to the advancement in logs. Last year the sawmills were paying from $4.50 to $5 per thousand for logs, while this year they have to pay from $6 to $6.50 for the same quality of logs. There is just as much advancement in the above table as there is in logs.—News, S.

One Time it Didn't Work.

It is well-known fact that where one or more carloads of freight are contracted for in the east for this country, it is seldom received here without additional freight charges tacked on. In most instances the railroad company force the owner of the freight to put up for these extra charges, in addition to the rate originally contracted for. But we note one instance where this bold bluff of the company met the wrong man. It is gratifying to us to mention the particulars of this failure on the part of the company to extort an increased rate over and above charges contracted for in the east. Lillis F. Smith, in shipping his three carloads of cattle and one stallion from Laddonia, Mo., to Endicott, contracted with the Chicago and Northwestern railroad agent at that place to deliver the same at their destination (Endicott) for $975. On reaching Endicott Mr. Smith tendered the agent at that place the above sum, when, as is usual, he found extra charges tacked onto the waybill, in this case amounting to $31.20, placed there by the O. R. & N. He refused to pay it. The company held the stock and demanded the payment. Again Mr. Smith refused. The agent was directed to hold the stock for payment, which he proceeded to do and contracted with J. A. Sanders for their keeping, who in turn transferred them to their owner, at a certain rate per head per day. Thus Mr. Smith was indirectly drawing pay from the company for feeding his own stock. The matter went on in this way for about a week, when the company got their eyes open to the fact that they were paying Mr. Sanders about $16 a day for feeding the stock and Mr. Smith apparently perfectly unconcerned regarding it. They agreed to accept the original contracted price, providing Mr. Smith would pay for the seven days' keeping, which met a very decided refusal from Mr. Smith. On the eighth day the company telegraphed their agent to settle on Mr. Smith's terms, which was accordingly done. By simply standing his ground Mr. Smith, in the end, paid the contracted charges of $975, and received $128 from the company for feeding his stock eight days.—Colfax Commonwealth.

Fire! Fire!
Is one of the greatest blessings when you have it under control. If you build your fire in one of those Magee Ranges or one of those Acorns or Argands at John A. Montgomery's, you will find it a pleasure to prepare a meal, or if you get one of those Heaters you will find them to be clean and economical and an ornament to your parlor. If you intend getting a range or a heater don't fail to look at his stock. You should call in see his beautiful Ornamental Coal Vases.
